THE CHERWELL SINGERS

The Cherwell Singers are a group of talented amateur singers, founded by a group of friends in 1978, who are celebrating their tenth anniversary this year. Their repertoire extends from major choral works to madrigals, modern choral songs and close harmony arrangements. They plan two major concerts each year in Oxford, in spring and summer, and also carry out a number of engagements at Christmas, as well as singing at weddings and conferences.

Their conductor, Andrew Carwood, is a Lay Clerk at Christ Church and is Assistant Conductor of the Christ Church Voluntary Choir.
